SPEECH AT ATLANTA FAIR

Lieutenant Governor Keeps Away from Political References and Sticks to Public Revenues and Prosperity-Greeting in Georgia Is inent citizens, and escorted to his hotel in a fashion that somewhat resembled the reception recently tendered William Lappaness Powers 2000. There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home. Is stated by a well-known authority. For some of these such as 120, 30, 31, 32, 33, and 34. thing was done when Mr. Bryan spoke here last week.

Mr. Chanler said, in part: and corruption. Our country was never can mix them by shaking well in a bot greater than to-day, our past history never more appreciated, our present from growing pains, as its joints are too suddenly stretched to keep pace with rapid growth. Yet the pains indicate a fering and deformity of rheumatism, condition which, if neglected, results in a weakened physical frame. The joints and strained by our sudden and general enlargement in commercial and national development. There is a straining of the natural and essential ligaments of national strength-the inherent power of individual States-due to a growing tendency toward centralization.

"There is a tendency toward dangerous weakness in individual effort in commercial enterprise, because of that enormous growth of centralized commercial power known as the trust. There is a lack of independent, individual opinion due to the facility of hiring other men to think for us. But granting all this, we improve as we grow. The recognition of evil and Capt. ROBERT H. ROLFE, quartermaster, to duty universal desire to have the evil cured are signs of a healthy mind.

Tampering with Constitution.

"Tampering with our Constitution has caused many existing evils. We have glanced at the history of our nation as a doctor glances at that of his patient, and we find the national pulse strong, with a constitution weakened for the moment by sudden development, undigested legislation, and spurious remedies recommended by quack doctors who enrich themselves at the patient's expense. We started with a clean bill of health, 'Equal rights and no special privilege.' As we grew from seaboard, colonies into a nation, we needed revenue, For revenue we adopted sudden development, undigested legislaa tariff. At first, the tariff acted as a like all tonics, larger and larger doses became imperative.

Rightly or wrongly, the tariff has be come such a prop to our commercial development that suddenly to destroy it by free trade would be to deprive the whole nation of a stimulant, without which it might exist, but could not prosper. I believe that our present protective system is a disease from which has sprung every really great evil that threatens our n tional life. A tariff, a bounty, or a rebate is a special privilege, and is opposed to

Should Seek the Remedy,

"Conceding that the evils threatening us spring from special privilege-and a protective tariff is a special privilege-let us seek the remedy in a common-sense and intelligent treatment of the tariff evil. We have lived and grown great, under, but not because of, the protective system. To thoughtlessly destroy that system would be to kill the patient before an attempt at cure. To unintelligently tamper with the tariff to secure temporary relief is equally unwise and dangerous. The tariff, as it now exists, is an evil. President McKinley, in his last public words, practically admitted it, But this method of raising money to carry on government has become so much a part of our national economics that a tariff, in some form, is to-day a national necessity. A national necessity should never be a football to be played with by

"Take the tariff out of politics. Divorce it from every suggestion of politi-cal manipulation. Make the raising of revenue a national, not a partisan, responsibility. The army and navy are not fettered by politics; they are not made use of for private gain. The tariff should stand upon the same high plane, not to be made use of as a private privilege, but regulated and respected as a national necessity, reduced to the lowest terms com

Add to that commission the most learned exponents of political economy, chosen by recognized institutions of learning. Add to them men who represent the importer and exporter, manufacturer and consumer, chosen by the chambers of commerce of our centers of civic strength; call in authorized representatives of organized labor and or he Farmers' Grange; and, after all sides have been heard, such a tariff conference will have enlightened the people of this country as to the best remedies. ### OPENING OF THE UNION STATION OF THE WASHINGTON TERMINAL COMPANY.

The new Union Station of the Washington Terminal Company will be placed in service on Sunday, October 27, 1907.

On that date all passenger trains of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, both through and local, will enter and depart from the new station, and the present station of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, at New Jersey avenue and C street, will be closed to traffic.

On November 17 the passenger trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad (Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington Railroad), the Washington Southern Railway, the Southern Railway, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and the Seaboard Air Line Radway will run into and depart from the new Union Station, and the present station, at Sixth and B streets, will be discontinued.

The station building, as far as the interior arrangements are concerned, is not finished to that degree of completeness in which the Washington Terminal Company has endeavored and hoped to present it to the use of the public, and for some time at least, on account of the enforced continuation of the work of fitting out the interior, the traveling public will not be able to enjoy the full benefit of its conveniences.

This condition is due entirely to the fact that in order to complete the grading of the ground adjacent to the station, according to the Act of Congress creating the station, the present tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad must be removed, and to the further fact that in order to push to completion the elevated structure carrying the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the surface tracks on a portion of Maryland avenue and on Sixth street leading into the present Pennsylvania Station must be abandoned, thereby cutting off all track connections with the Sixth and B streets station.

All track connections of the various railroad lines with the Union Station are complete, and the eastern end of the Union Station will be fully equipped for business on the specified dates.

In the meantime the work on the main portion of the new station will be forced forward with all possible rapidity, and it is confidently expected the entire structure will be completely finished by the end of the present year.

THE WASHINGTON TERMINAL COMPANY, G. W. MARTIN, Superintendent.
